A Neighborhood of Friends

Within the radius of Daang Hari Road, Alabang springs a community called Amici, the Italian word for "friend". Because like a true friend, Amici gives you and your family a complete sense of security and belongingness.

With two guarded entry gates, high property fences with well-lit roads and a linear road that runs through the community's interior, Amici provides all the essential elements for safety and security.

Neighborly designs

All homes along Amici's property line face inward. In between building clusters are pocket gardens to allow neighbors to easily interact with one another. The amicable atmosphere is also seen in Amici's model homes.

These homes feature family-centered rooms and well-accessorized kitchens and bathrooms. Outside the home, its landscaped property offers several amenities such as the multi-purpose hall, swimming pool and children's playground.
